

THE NEW LEADERSHIP PARADIGM

Richard Barrett, Barrett Values Centre

A Response to the Global Leadership Crisis

To survive and prosper in the twenty-first century we will need to develop a new leadership paradigm, one that embraces the global common good rather than individual self-interest.

We need leaders who recognise that business is a wholly owned subsidiary of society, and that society is a wholly owned subsidiary of the environment. If we lose our environment and our life-support systems, our society will perish. If we lose our society, we will lose our economy, and our businesses will fail.

STOP PRESS!!

What are Australian Values? Richard Barrett will announce the results of the first Australian National Values Survey!

In this cutting-edge seminar Richard will describe the new leadership paradigm; why it is necessary at this point in time; and why building a sustainable future for everyone is both a business and a societal imperative.

He will also describe his New Leadership Paradigm learning system built on the universal principles that have been responsible for 14 billion years of evolution. The learning system is comprised of The New Leadership Paradigm book (a 530 page text book for the 21st century leader), a public Web site, and four downloadable learning modules for Leading Self, Leading a Team, Leading an Organisation and Leading in Society.

The New Leadership Paradigm learning system is designed for:

- Individuals of all ages who aspire to be future leaders
- Consultants and coaches who are supporting the next generation of leaders
- Leadership development trainers in government and business
- Talent management professionals responsible for selecting and training future leaders
- Change agents and OD practitioners who are looking for new, cost effective ways to make leadership training available to large numbers of people in their organisations
- Universities and Business Schools searching for cutting-edge training materials to support their undergraduate and mature students

Richard Barrett is the Founder and Chairman of the Barrett Values Centre. He is an internationally recognized author, consultant and keynote speaker on values-based leadership and culture in business and society. He is a visiting lecturer at the Consulting and Coaching for Change, leadership course run jointly by HEC Executive Education in Paris and the Said Business School, University of Oxford. He is also an Adjunct Professor at Royal Roads University, Institute for Values-based Leadership.
